// The school says...

Redefining success is not just a motto for us, but a living reality for every individual's journey at the school. We take great pride in providing an inclusive environment, with two educational approaches: mainstream and supported learning. The syllabus is based on the Australian curriculum and there are unique facilities such as the interactive multi-sensory ocean Snoezelen room. The high teacher-to-student ratio (1:4 in Primary, 1:6 in Secondary) and dedicated in-house support staff and services allow teaching to be tailored to students with different learning styles.

// What's new?

IIS is celebrating its 10-year anniversary in 2019. From our humble beginnings of starting out with just five students, the school has grown to over 80. We will be hosting our first open house later in the year.

We chose IIS for its inclusive and nurturing environment, low student-to-teacher ratio and supplemental in-house support programme. We felt that the school was the right fit for Tenzin and our family. Tenzin adores his teachers and loves the variety of hands-on extracurricular activities that expose him to the arts and sciences.

To this day, Tenzin cannot stop talking about the IIS end-of-year concert, Safari Tales. The staff and students worked diligently over several months to put on a marvellous and impactful show for the entire IIS community. The event had a lasting and positive impact on our son's verbal, social and motor skills, and revealed his affinity for performing.
